

Narrative Writing- 100 word memoir

Start with a Wham!

(Thanks Omari Hamm)

W- Wonder, make the readers wonder what's happening

"He stopped trying to bring her back."

Eleanor and Park by Rainbow Rowell

H - Hook the readers. Draw in their attention and make them want to keep reading.

"I shouldn't have come to this party."

The Hate You Give by Angie Thomas

A – A Conflict. Something's has to be wrong. Highlight the tension, the change, the irony.

"I always thought the moment you met the great love of your life would be like the movies."

Our Chemical Hearts by Krystal Sutherland

M – Movement - include a small movement or a sound

"As soon as I'd gotten the first warbling word out, I knew I'd made yet another horrible mistake."

H2O by Virginia Bergin
